Subject: Statement No. 2374- Mr. Ralph C. Olson -

Bill,

Mr. Olson (530-467-3300) called me and was very concerned that we sent him a supplemental statement form after he asked us to change ownership of the claim. He stated he mailed us a notice of assignment dated 3/9/2006.

I told him that I would have the Division records changed and he would get a copy of a letter acknowledging the change in ownership. He informed me that the new owner should be:

429581
Carl S. Hammond and Clyde D. Hammond
dba Scott Valley Angus Ranch
4708 East Callahan Road
Etna, CA 96027
(530) 467-5392

RALPH C. OLSEN
PO BOX 68
ETNA, CA 96027

430574
I later got a call from Mr. Carl S. Hammond confirming this ownership change. Mr. Hammond is shown on our record as agent for S014912, that is owned by Carl Hammond Sr. Trust. Mr. Hammond asked that ownership of Statement 2374 be shown in his and his brother's name with Carl being the primary owner. Carl may later correct ownership of S014912 but not at this time.

Bill, please send a letter addressed to Carl Hammond and Clyde Hammond informing that ownership of Statement 2374 is being changed to their names with a cc to Mr. Olson. Also enclose a new statement form for Carl to complete for that claim.

I appreciate a confirmation that its been sent because I promised Mr. Olson that I would take care of this. He is elderly and I want to put him at ease. See me if you have any questions. Thanks

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriate rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre 1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the source of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:
